GRACE PERIOD

Families must renew their child's eligibility (form DCH-1181) for FSS payments each year near or during their child's birth month. Families are notified that their eligibility period is running out three times prior to expiration. Notification is in the form of messages on the check stubs or by email if payments are electronically directed to a financial institution.

Subsidy payments continue up to and including the birth month of the child. After that there are no further payments until eligibility is re-determined. There is a two-month grace period following the child's birth month in which families can renew the subsidy without penalty. If the renewal process is completed during the first or second month following the birth month of the child and meets FSS eligibility criteria, the subsidy will be reinstated retroactively. Families renewing their child's FSS after the grace period ends will be treated as new applicants. In this situation, payments will resume the month following the date that the community mental health services program has in its possession a completed, signed application and all other required supporting documentation.

Checks are mailed directly from the State of Michigan. Family Support Subsidy checks should arrive around the 21st of every month. The State of Michigan will not investigate any lost checks unless it has been late for at least 14 days (from the 21st or whenever the check was mailed).

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, Family Support Subsidy (FSS) program is required by statute to send an annual report to the Governor and Legislature outlining efforts undertaken by the FSS program in providing monetary assistance to eligible families caring for children with severe developmental disabilities. A large part of the report communicated what you think of the program and reports other types of assistance you would welcome. This information comes from your completing of the FSS annual family survey which is done during your child's annual renewal for FSS. Although completing of this brief survey is optional, your assistance in completing this survey provides valuable feedback.

The survey can be taken online or by using the traditional mail-in paper form. To access the online survey, please visit: <https://survey.mphi.org/surveys/?s=celjUgcyo3>. Although online completing is highly encouraged, print materials (survey and postage paid envelope) are available by contacting Stephanie Murray, OCHN Family Supports Subsidy Coordinator, at 248.464.6379.

Data entered on this survey online is secure and cannot be viewed by others. If you encounter problems using the on-line survey, you may contact Wendy Walser at 517.241.5774 or by email at walserv1@michigan.gov. As an alternative, you can simply contact your local FSS coordinator for a paper copy and postage paid envelope.
